highlighting key words or words spoken by someone, the author would like to kindly inform you that the verbatim or direct word-for-word quote will only end after proper referencing of open and closed brackets has been done at the end of the verbatim sentence clearly acknowledging the name and year of the source document that has been used by the author as shown (Rudolph Muteswa, 2024, <https://rudolphmuteswa.com>). Furthermore, as the author of this textbook I have clearly highlighted the term ‘Gathered Articles’ as the strategy I am using to write my book since I am using direct quotes I have gathered from various publications written by various authors and presenting them in a logical manner that creates a Book Chapter despite the fact that I will often at times present my own interpreted words in certain parts of the book. I was granted permission by the publishers of the information sources I obtained the information to use during my book writing process. In addition in certain instances there can be a full website link where the article or publication used in writing this textbook can be directly downloaded or viewed by the readers of this textbook for instance: during in-text referencing, the footnotes and or the bibliography section of the chapter as this enables the author of this textbook to clearly show the readers who the original owners of the published work are and also to fully acknowledge them. In addition readers please note that all the information sources used in this book are owned by the publishers/owners of the various websites, books, newspapers, magazines and journals used by the book author. Therefore readers of this textbook if you want to use any of the information from any of these referenced sources please may you directly contact the original owner(s)/publisher(s) of the information source for permission to use their information for whatever purpose you want to use it for.

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION

The European Union is a much loved globally celebrated powerful regional body (founded in Europe) that is rich in culture, democracy and human rights protection principles. Globally the European Union is also renowned for its development programs in the following areas: humanitarian assistance, education, health, peacebuilding, agriculture, technology transfer, international trade, climate change, tourism and so on. During the early and mid 19th century various Northern-Western Europe based nations realized that the formation of closer ties with ‘like-minded’ nations became a priority since they were all aiming to achieve the same developed focused vision and goals despite having different national boundaries. Regional integration became a strategic priority for most of the developed nations and this led to many treaties and regional bodies being established around the world. The main aim of this textbook is to educate readers that the European Union is indeed a major key player in the world in terms of diplomacy and security as it invests a lot of its resources towards securing worldwide peace initiatives. In general millions of people around the world have immensely benefited from the humanitarian aid of the European Union which focuses on issues such as natural disasters, climate change, health, promotion & protection of human rights, democracy and freedoms programs. In addition, this textbook specifically aimed to educate readers that the European Union Member States are now one of the world’s leading highly attractive tourist destinations including the European Union’s own premises (also known as the European Quarter) based in Belgium and France. Tourism is one of the main pillars that help to support innovation rates in a country. Furthermore, the other main aim of this textbook is to educate readers that the Anthem of the ‘European Union’ is a symbol of sharing a common goal of unity, continental identity, history, community and democratic principles. The other main aim of this textbook is to educate readers that people are the key actors found in a modern day society despite the fact that they come from different walks of life. Nowadays everyone needs the helping hand of another person in their day-to-day life thus when conflict exists in a society it becomes impossible to easily achieve unity in that particular society. Therefore, there is a strong interrelation between ‘achievement’ and ‘unity’ as they both co-exist and neither can succeed without the other. Historically some of the world’s most powerful countries in the world in particular the United States of America such as its unquestionable outstanding economic, military and political strength was founded on principles of unity, human rights protection, democracy and so on which is similar to the principles that were laid during the formation of the European Union bloc. In general people need other people to achieve their goals in life and the fact that they need others ultimately makes it easier for unity to prevail in peoples' lives. Interestingly, a society's richness in: culture, values, ethics, principles and integrity is deep rooted in the happiness of its people who live as families in their respective communities. The existence of mutual relations amongst people, groups and or entities in a society is based on their willingness to work together and co-exist. Good relations can only be achieved if all the parties involved (such as people, groups or entities) are willing to embrace and adopt a unity pact that is based on transparency, trust, truthfulness and good communication. The other key aim of this book is to educate readers the following: (1) the Kingdom of Belgium's prosperity (2) the historical success story of the Kingdom of the Netherlands. Generally it is unquestionable that great nations such as the Kingdom of Belgium, Kingdom of the Netherlands and the various European Union Member States will continue to enjoy powerful nation brand statuses as a result of their exemplary Royal Monarchs' and government leadership. This book specifically targeted people on the continents of Africa, North America, Latin America, Europe, Oceania, the Middle East and Asia in order to provide them with basic knowledge about the following: (1) the European Union, (2) the values of the European Union, (3) overview information of the globally celebrated Royal Monarchs' of the Kingdom of Belgium and the Kingdom of the Netherlands, (4) the historical good foreign relations, trade and partnership of the United States of America and the European Union (5) current overview information about the various outstanding educational U.S. Presidential Libraries & Museums including the basic information and photographs of the current and past outstanding U.S. Presidents (who have served in the remarkable U.S. White House, U.S. Congress, U.S. Senate, U.S. Government departments/institutions and elsewhere) and this information of the U.S. Presidents' is clearly highlighted in both Chapter 1 & Chapter 6 of this textbook (6) popular cities and tourist destinations located in the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

I would like to thank my 6 siblings (four brothers & two sisters) for tirelessly supporting me towards my education and personal life goals. Furthermore, I would like to take this opportunity to kindly thank my late parents, aunties and uncles for the great role they played in my childhood. In general I shall forever be grateful to the great men and women on the continent of Africa, North America, Europe, South America, the Middle East, Oceania and Asia who contributed towards the writing of this book in particular all the named leading 'iconic' entrepreneurs, academics, regional institutions, Royal Monarchs', Presidents, Prime Ministers, business leaders, governments, organizations & the various information sources cited in this book.

Chapter 1: European Union (EU) Member States

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘dialogue’ and ‘national dialogue’.
- Describe what is the ‘European Union’ & the ‘Schengen area’.
- Discuss the origins of the European Union.
- Identify the key goals & values of the European Union. Explain the features of the European Union flag.

1.1 Introduction

The European Union is a culture rich, travel adventure, pro-democracy & protection of human rights, peacebuilding, pro-education & health, climate friendly, powerful, globally celebrated and much loved regional body that was founded in Northern-Western Europe. During the early 1900s most of the world’s powerful and rich developed nations discovered that living and working in silos slows down their pace towards achieving prosperity, international trade, environmental conservation, education, health, innovation, nation branding and military strength. The formation of closer ties with ‘like minded’ nations became a priority since they were all aiming to achieve the same vision and goals despite having different national boundaries. Regional integration became a strategic priority for most of the developed nations and this led to many treaties and regional bodies being established around the world. Most of the European Union Member States are consecutively ranked as having the highest quality of life and resources in the world for the past number of years. <sup>12</sup>“Since 1957, the European Union has benefited its citizens by working for peace and prosperity. It helps protect our basic political, social and economic rights. Peace & Security. Central and western Europe has never known so long a period without war. The EU is

The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

1.2 Definition of terms

<sup>3</sup>“There are various definitions that are used in different fields of study and generally these help readers to better understand complex words or terms in numerous books, articles, magazines, academic journals and so on. There are many definitions of the term dialogue in academic publications and dictionaries. The term ‘dialogue’ refers to any form of planned interaction, communication, talking or liaising of two or more individuals or groups with the aim of creating a mutual, consensual, joint, viable and meaningful long lasting outcome/decision from the planned conversation whilst at the same time ensuring that bias is eliminated by any means necessary during the dialogue process” (Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:158). <sup>45</sup>“National dialogue is an increasingly popular tool for conflict resolution and political transformation. It can broaden debate regarding a country’s trajectory beyond the usual elite decision makers; however, it can also be misused and manipulated by leaders to consolidate their power. National dialogues are becoming an increasingly popular tool for conflict resolution and political transformation” (Stigant, S. & Murray, E. of The United States Institute of Peace, 2015, <https://www.usip.org/publications/2015/10/national-dialogues-tool-conflict-transformation> cited

It is important to highlight the fact that the European Union is comprised of 28 Member States not 27 countries. “On 9 December 2011 leaders from the EU and Croatia signed the accession treaty. The country became the 28th EU member country on 1 July 2013”<sup>6</sup> (European Commission, 2024, https://neighbourhood-enlargement.ec.europa.eu/croatia\_en#).<sup>7</sup> According to the United Kingdom Government Visas and Immigration (2024) EU countries. The EU countries are: Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Republic of Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain and Sweden (United Kingdom Government Visas and Immigration, 2024, <https://www.gov.uk/eu-eea#:~:text=EU%20countries&text=Austria%2C%20Belgium%2C%20Bulgaria%2C%20Croatia,%2C%20Slovenia%2C%20Spain%20and%20Sweden>).<sup>89</sup> According to the European Union (2021) The European Union is a group of 27 countries in Europe. <sup>10</sup> European Union (2022) The European Union. What it is and what it does. Available from:

European Union (EU) is a unique economic and political union between 27 European countries. The EU that we know today has its roots in several treaties signed in the aftermath of the Second World War. The first step was to foster economic cooperation, based on the idea that countries that trade with one another become economically interdependent and so are more likely to avoid conflict. The result was the European Economic Community, created in 1958 with the initial aim of increasing economic cooperation between six countries: Belgium, Germany, France, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. Since then, 22 more countries have joined (the United Kingdom left the EU on 31 January 2020) and a huge single market (also known as the internal market) has been created and continues to develop towards its full potential. What began as a purely economic union has evolved into an organisation spanning many different policy areas – from climate, environment and health to external relations and security, justice and migration. The EU has delivered more than half a century of peace, stability and prosperity, helped raise living standards and launched a single European currency: the euro. More than 340 million EU citizens in 19 countries now use it as their currency and enjoy its benefits. Thanks to the abolition of border controls between most EU countries, people can travel freely throughout most of the continent. It has also become much easier to live and work in another country in Europe. All EU citizens have the right and freedom to choose in which EU country they want to study, work or retire. Every EU country must treat EU citizens in exactly the same way as its own citizens when it comes to matters of employment, social security and tax. The EU's main economic engine is the single market. It enables goods, services, money and people to move freely. The EU aims to follow suit in other areas like energy, knowledge and capital markets to ensure that Europeans also obtain the maximum benefit from these resources. The EU remains focused on making its governing institutions more transparent and democratic. Decisions are taken as openly as possible and as closely as possible to the citizen. <sup>11</sup>More powers have been given to the directly elected European Parliament, while national parliaments play a greater role than before, working alongside the EU institutions. The EU is governed by the principle of representative democracy, with citizens directly represented at the EU level in the European Parliament and Member States represented in the European Council and the Council of the European Union. Citizens are encouraged to contribute to the democratic life of the EU by giving their views on EU policies during their development or by suggesting improvements to existing laws and policies. The European Citizens' Initiative empowers citizens to have a greater say on EU policies that affect their lives. Citizens can also submit complaints and enquiries concerning the application of EU law. As enshrined in the Treaty on European Union, 'The Union is founded on the values of respect for human dignity, freedom, democracy, equality, the rule of law and respect for human rights, including the rights of persons belonging to minorities. These values are common to the Member States in a society in which pluralism, non-discrimination, tolerance, justice, solidarity and equality between women and men prevail.' These values are an integral part of the European way of life. Human dignity constitutes the basis of fundamental rights; it must be respected and protected. Human rights are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights.<sup>12</sup> These cover the right to be free from discrimination on the basis of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, the right to the protection of your personal data and the right to get access to justice. In 2012, the EU was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for advancing the causes of peace, reconciliation, democracy and human rights in Europe. Being an EU citizen also means enjoying political rights. Every adult EU citizen has the right to stand as a candidate for and vote in European Parliamentary elections, whether in their country of residence or country of origin. The EU is based on the rule of law. All citizens have equal right before the law and everything the EU does is founded on treaties, which are voluntarily and democratically agreed by its member countries. Law and justice are upheld by an independent judiciary. The countries that belong to the EU have given final jurisdiction in matters of EU law to the Court of Justice of the European Union, whose judgments have to be respected by all''' (European Union, 2022, <https://op.europa.eu/webpub/com/eu-what-it-is/en/#chapter1>). The Schengen Area.<sup>13</sup> Schengen Area. The border-free Schengen Area guarantees free movement to more than 425 million EU citizens, along with non-EU nationals living in the EU or visiting the EU as tourists, exchange students or for business purposes (anyone legally present in the EU). Free movement of persons enables every EU citizen to travel, work and live in an EU country without special formalities. Schengen underpins this freedom by enabling citizens to move around the Schengen Area without being subject to border checks. Today, the Schengen Area encompasses most EU countries, except for Cyprus and Ireland. Bulgaria and Romania became the newest Member States to join the Schengen area as of 31 March 2024, any person crossing the internal air and sea borders will no longer be subject to checks. Nevertheless, a unanimous decision on the lifting of checks on persons at the internal land borders is still expected to be taken by the Council at a later date. The following section will cover aspects about the origins of the European Union in-depth.

1.4 Origins of the European Union

<sup>14</sup>According to the European Union (2021) The idea to make the European Union came after two big wars happened in Europe. Countries in Europe saw that it is better to work together than fighting against each other (European Union, 2021, https://europa.eu/european-union/about-eu/easy-to-read\_en cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:161). “© European Easy-to-Read Logo: Inclusion Europe. ## Values

The European Union is founded on the following values:

Human dignity

Human dignity is inviolable. It must be respected, protected and constitutes the real basis of fundamental rights.

Freedom

Freedom of movement gives citizens the right to move and reside freely within the Union. Individual freedoms such as respect for private life, freedom of thought, religion, assembly, expression and information are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights.

Democracy

The functioning of the EU is founded on representative democracy. A European citizen automatically enjoys political rights. Every adult EU citizen has the right to stand as a candidate and to vote in elections to the European Parliament. EU citizens have the right to stand as a candidate and to vote in their country of residence, or in their country of origin.

Equality

Equality is about equal rights for all citizens before the law. The principle of equality between women and men underpins all European policies and is the basis for European integration. It applies in all areas. The principle of equal pay for equal work became part of the Treaty of Rome in 1957.

Rule of law

<sup>23</sup>The EU is based on the rule of law. Everything the EU does is founded on treaties, voluntarily and democratically agreed by its EU countries. Law and justice are upheld by an independent judiciary. The EU countries gave final jurisdiction to the European Court of Justice - its judgments have to be respected by all.

Human rights

Human rights are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights. These cover the right to be free from discrimination on the basis of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, the right to the protection of your personal data, and the right to get access to justice.

1.7 Conclusion

It can be concluded that overtime most of the world's powerful and rich developed nations discovered that living and working in silos slows down their pace towards achieving prosperity, international trade, environmental conservation, education, health, innovation, nation branding and military strength. It can also be concluded that Europe-based countries that were aiming to achieve the same national development goals despite the fact that they were separated by different national boundaries ended-up forming closer ties since they were all aiming to achieve the same vision and goals. Many decades ago regional integration became a strategic priority for most of the developed nations and this led to many treaties and regional bodies being established around the world in particular the 'European Union'. It can be concluded that the European Union enables its citizens to enjoy affordable information, communication and technology (ICT) services whilst ensuring that their personal data is well secured under the European Union laws.

- 4) Explain the features of the European Union flag?

Chapter 2: Anthem of the European Union & the various exemplary leaders of the European Union & the United States of America

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘weather’ and ‘climate change’. Explain what is ‘unity’.
- Describe the Anthem of the European Union.
- Discuss how the European Union works.
- Explain why European Union Member States are part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’.

2.1 Introduction

The European Union is indeed a major key player in the world in terms of diplomacy and security as it invests a lot of its resources towards securing worldwide peace initiatives. Millions of people around the world have immensely benefited from the humanitarian aid of the European Union which focuses on issues such as natural disasters, climate change, health, promotion & protection of human rights, democracy and freedoms programs. Today the Anthem of the ‘European Union’ is a symbol of sharing a common goal of unity, continental identity, history, community and democratic principles. <sup>28</sup>“In general ‘unity’ is present where a group, individuals or a community who are co-habiting together and or working together either: tolerate, love, respect, motivate, support and greatly value each other while on the other hand sharing a common goal, history and so on” (Rudolph Muteswa, 2021:14 cited from his famous book title ‘World Peace, Dialogue & Unity (Gathered Articles): A North America, Asia, Africa, Latin America, Middle East, Oceania & Europe Perspective 1st Edition’). <sup>29</sup><sup>30</sup>The existence of a common history together amongst different communities in a society is unity. In addition ‘unity’ occurs when citizens of a country start to live together in peace and harmony as neighbors while at the same time valuing each other’s differences, opinions, ideas and beliefs in a respectful manner (Levin, Y. cited in George W. Bush Presidential Center, 2021, www.bushcenter.org cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2021:14). “People are the key actors found in a modern day society despite the fact that they come from different walks of life. Nowadays everyone needs the helping hand of another person in their day-to-day life thus when conflict exists in a society it becomes impossible to easily achieve unity in that particular society. Therefore, there is a strong interrelation between ‘achievement’ and ‘unity’ as they both co-exist and neither can succeed without the other. People need other people to achieve their goals in life and the fact that they need others ultimately makes it easier for unity to prevail in peoples’ lives. Interestingly, a society’s richness in: culture, values, ethics, principles and integrity is deep rooted in the happiness of its people who live as families in their respective communities. The existence of mutual relations amongst people, groups and or entities in a society is based on their willingness to work together and co-exist. Good relations can only be achieved if all the parties involved (such as people, groups or entities) are willing to embrace and adopt a unity pact that is based on transparency, truthfulness and good communication. Overtime mutual relations start to produce good results when people, groups and or entities in a society continue to be united. Generally a society is made up of different groups or teams of people. Notably, the fuel that drives outstanding teamwork results amongst team members is ‘unity’. <sup>31</sup>Societal development is easier to achieve when people are open minded, willing to share ideas and join hands to achieve mutual goals. Hence, by doing so unity thrives in a society since the life blood of unity is the attainment of mutual goals in a society” (Rudolph Muteswa, 2021:14 cited from his famous book title ‘World Peace, Dialogue & Unity (Gathered Articles): A North America, Asia, Africa, Latin America, Middle East, Oceania & Europe Perspective 1st Edition’). The European Union is one of the many institutions in the world that has strategically prioritized issues related with climate change. It is important to point-out the fact that in various countries around the world higher temperatures are now being experienced and this leads to increased global warming and changes in rainfall patterns. The following section will cover in-depth aspects related to the definition of terms.

2.2 Definition of terms

There are many definitions of the term weather and climate in academic publications and dictionaries. <sup>3233</sup>“Weather describes the conditions outside right now in a specific place. For example, if you see that it’s raining outside right now, that’s a way to describe today’s weather. Rain, snow, wind, hurricanes, tornadoes — these are all weather events. Climate, on the other hand, is more than just one or two rainy days. Climate describes the weather conditions that are expected in a region at a particular time of year. Climate change describes a change in the average conditions — such as temperature and rainfall — in a region over a long period of time. For example, 20,000 years ago, much of the United States was covered in glaciers. In the United States today, we have a warmer climate and fewer glaciers” (NASA Climate Kids, 2021, <https://climatekids.nasa.gov/> cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2021:14 from his famous book title ‘Climate Change & the Global Business Community’s Viewpoint (Gathered Articles): A North America, Asia, Africa, Oceania & Europe a 21st Century Perspective’. “Ethics is the process of questioning, discovering and defending our values, principles and purpose. It’s about finding out who we are and staying true to that in the face of temptations, challenges and uncertainty. It’s not always fun and it’s hardly ever easy, but if we commit to it, we set ourselves up to make decisions we can stand by, building a life that's truly our own and a future we want to be a part of. At The Ethics Centre, we refer to these as 'values', 'principles' and 'purpose'.

- Values tell us what's good – they're the things we strive for, desire and seek to protect.
- Principles tell us what's right – outlining how we may or may not achieve our values.
- Purpose is your reason for being – it gives life to your values and principles"<sup>35</sup> (The Ethics Centre, 2019, <https://ethics.org.au/why-were-here/what-is-ethics/>). <sup>36</sup>Ethics in an organization or any global institution can easily be achieved by adopting a transparency and accountability mindset and policy in the rest of the organization. Transparency is strongly interrelated to accountability and in general transparency is reinforced by accountability which ultimately results in a more effective ethics and compliance culture being adopted by the most senior leaders. Global leaders have a fiduciary duty of serving their people or countries' with honesty and integrity in a manner that upholds transparency and accountability on their day-to-day activities (Rudolph Muteswa, 2019). The exemplary unity of the exceptional leaders of the European Union and the United States of America will be clearly depicted by Figure 2.2 below.

The European Union and the United States. The EU-U.S. partnership has prospered for more than six decades, constructed on a foundation of shared common values, including a commitment to the rule of law, the democratic process, free enterprise, human rights, and alleviating poverty. These values, combined with our deep economic ties and high levels of trust built over more than half a century, make the EU and the United States natural partners for tackling today’s global challenges. The EU and the United States share a global responsibility to promote common values, including democracy, peace, freedom, and the rule of law; support and protect human rights around the world; create conditions for harmonious economic development worldwide; strengthen the rules-based international system, and improve the economies of developing countries and those in transition. The United States is the EU’s foremost strategic partner in promoting peace and stability around the world. Together, we are the two largest donors of humanitarian aid and development assistance worldwide. Every day, we work together to confront global security challenges like terrorism, violent extremism, nuclear weapons proliferation, and transnational crime. The EU and United States have growing security and defense ties, with close military-to-military cooperation, notably in Europe, Africa, and the Indo Pacific. We also work closely on non-proliferation and disarmament, as well as on <sup>40</sup>A culture of consistently speaking the truth, being open and accountable has become inevitable in the modern day global political arena if the goals of their countries' include: (1) to enhance their local industrial & agricultural productivity levels, (2) international relations & trade, (3) to boost their nation brand value, (4) to enhance their international tourist arrival rates & promoting their local holiday destinations, (5) to promote their university research & innovation rankings, (6) to enhance their global humanitarian, peacebuilding & environmental conservation/climate change initiatives and so on. In each and every government and or any global institution the foundation to developing a culture of honesty, accountability and ethics is 'trust' (Rudolph Muteswa, 2019). <sup>41</sup>"Trust is a central part of all human relationships, including romantic partnerships, family life, business operations, politics, and medical practices. Behaviors and verbal expressions are certainly evidence for trust, for example when someone treats you well and says nice things to you, but these behaviors are merely evidence for the internal mental state of trust that causes them, not the trust itself. Trusting people may involve estimations of probabilities of how they will behave, but people usually trust others without any understanding of probability or any precise predictions about their behaviors"<sup>42</sup> (Thagard, 2018, www.psychologytoday.com). <sup>43</sup>"Honesty can be defined as an inner motivation that drives an individual to be truthful, sincere and act with honor" (Rudolph. Patrick .T. Muteswa, 2019).

2. 4 What is the Anthem of the European Union

<sup>47</sup><sup>48</sup>According to the European Union (2021) Every country has a melody that better shows its values and culture as a country. This melody is called ‘anthem’. The European Union has its own anthem too. In 1985, people who make decisions in the European Union chose a melody of a very important composer to be the anthem of the European Union. This composer is called Ludwig van Beethoven. The melody shows how important it is that all people are free, live in peace and stand by each other. The European Union believes in these values and that is why it has chosen this melody to be its anthem (European Union, 2021, https://europa.eu/european-union/about-eu/easy-to-read\_en cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:167). “© European Easy-to-Read Logo: Inclusion Europe. ## 2.6 Why the European Union is part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’?

There are various reasons why the European Union is part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’. In general the achievements, values and goals of the European Union are all part of the reasons why it has beautiful countries that are globally ranked as having high quality life, freedoms, peace, powerful international statures, equality and so on. Some of the key achievements of the European Union which this book helps to highlight as part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’ are further discussed below.

2.6.1 ““Key European Union achievements and tangible benefits. Key achievements. Since 1957, the European Union has achieved great things for its citizens and the world:

- a continent at peace
  - freedom for its citizens to live, study or work anywhere in the EU
  - the world’s biggest single market
  - aid and development assistance for millions of people worldwide

2.6.1.1 <sup>60</sup>Peace and stability. The EU has delivered over half a century of peace, stability and prosperity. It also plays an important role in diplomacy and works to promote these same benefits – as well as democracy, fundamental freedoms and the rule of law – across the globe. In 2012, the EU was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for its achievements in this field. 70 years of lasting peace

- The EU’s common foreign & security policy is designed to resolve conflicts and promote international understanding, based on diplomacy and respect for international rules.

2.6.1.2 <sup>61</sup>Single market. The EU's main economic engine is the single market. It enables most goods, services, money and people to move freely throughout most of the continent. It has certainly become much easier to move around Europe – all EU citizens have the right to study, work or retire in any EU country. As an EU national, for employment, social security and tax purposes, every EU country is required to treat you exactly the same as its own citizens.

- Euro – used by over 340 million EU citizens, the euro has eliminated the risk of currency fluctuation and exchange costs, and strengthened the single market – to the benefit of us all.

- Telephone & digital services – you can use your phone and online services at no extra cost across the EU, thanks to the end of roaming rules.

2.6.1.3 <sup>62</sup>Citizens' rights and protections. The Treaty on the European Union gives EU citizens and legal residents a wide range of rights, enacted in EU law across many fields.

Charter of fundamental rights. The Charter brings together all the personal, civic, political, economic and social rights enjoyed by people within the EU.

2.6.1.3.1 Employment rights

Every EU worker enjoys certain minimum rights relating to health and safety at work; equal opportunities; protection against all forms of discrimination; and labour laws.

<sup>63</sup>The EU has taken a strong stance to protect individual rights and personal information in its data protection and privacy laws, to ensure we all have more control over our personal data.

- Right to be forgotten

2.6.1.3.3 Consumer rights

EU consumers can feel safe in the knowledge that they will get their money back if they return unwanted products, and will receive a refund if they experience any avoidable delays or cancellations while travelling.

2.6.1.4 <sup>64</sup>Business, growth and trade. The EU is the largest trade bloc in the world. It is the world's biggest exporter of manufactured goods and services, and the biggest import market for over 100 countries. Free trade among its members was one of the EU's founding principles. This is possible thanks to the single market. Beyond its borders, the EU is also committed to liberalising world trade.

2.6.1.4.1 Business

The EU has ensured that you're protected against the downsides of globalisation through EU support for small businesses and rules to make sure big companies pay their fair share of tax. The EU can also help if you've been treated unfairly as a business owner. Successful EU programmes like Erasmus+ can help you help you get training to make the most of your career.

2.6.1.4.2 Trade

The EU has achieved a strong position by acting together with one voice on the global stage, rather than with separate trade strategies. The EU is in prime position when it comes to global trade. The openness of our trade regime has meant that the EU is the biggest player on the global trading scene and remains a reliable partner to do business with.

2.6.1.5 <sup>6566</sup>“Food quality and environmental standards. Because EU countries cooperate so closely, our food and our environment meet some of the world’s highest quality standards.

2.6.1.5.1 Food

Protecting health is the aim of all EU laws and standards in the farming and food sectors. An extensive body of EU-wide law covers the entire food production and processing chain within the EU, as well as imported and exported goods.

2.6.1.6 <sup>67</sup>International diplomacy & development. EU countries acting in unison have much more of a voice on the world stage than 27 nations of varying size acting separately. Taken together, the EU institutions and national governments are the world's leading donor of development assistance and work collectively to promote good governance, fight hunger and preserve natural resources.

2.6.1.6.1 Diplomacy & security

Through its political, practical and economic support, the EU has played a crucial role in building peace in the Western Balkans since the Yugoslav wars. One example is the EU-facilitated dialogue between Serbia and Kosovo, which led to a landmark deal in April 2013 that is currently being implemented, with EU support.

The EU provides assistance to countries and populations, both within Europe and abroad, when major disasters or humanitarian emergencies strike. Collectively, the EU and its constituent countries are the world's leading donor of humanitarian aid. Every year the EU provides food, shelter, protection, healthcare and clean water to over 120 million victims of disasters and conflict in over 80 countries.

2.6.1.6.4 Aid, development and diplomacy in action

<sup>6970</sup>The EU cooperates with governments in 150 partner countries across the developing world, as well as civil society and international organisations. For example, in Haiti the EU provides a number of different forms of aid and development assistance, to help the country develop resilience, resolve structural weaknesses and bring short-term relief to the most vulnerable. Since 1994, the EU has provided Haiti with €419 million in aid to:

- give access to life-saving health services
- distribute emergency shelter in camps and host families
- give access to water and sanitation facilities
- distribute food

- The conclusion of this chapter will be covered in the following section.

2.7 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the European Union has Member States that all qualify to be recognized as part of the ‘Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World’. The European Union is indeed a major key player in the world in terms of diplomacy and security as it invests a lot of its resources towards securing worldwide peace initiatives. Millions of people around the world have immensely benefited from the humanitarian aid of the European Union which focuses on issues such as natural disasters, climate change, health, promotion & protection of human rights, democracy and freedoms programs. It can be concluded that the Anthem of the ‘European Union’ is a symbol of sharing a common goal of unity, continental identity, history, community and democratic principles. The anthem of the European Union is significantly contributing towards creating tolerance, love, unity, respect, support, motivation and values amongst the citizens of the European Union. It can be concluded that unity is a result of a common history together amongst different communities in a society. It can also be concluded that unity is when citizens of a country start to live together in peace and harmony as neighbors while at the same time valuing each other’s differences, opinions, ideas and beliefs in a respectful manner. It can also be concluded that societal development is easier to achieve when people are open minded, willing to share ideas and join hands to achieve mutual goals.

2.8 Review questions

- 1) Define the following terms ‘weather’ and ‘climate change’? Explain what is ‘unity’?
- 2) Describe the Anthem of the European Union?
- 3) Discuss how the European Union works?

4) Explain why European Union Member States are part of the 'Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World'?

Chapter 3: The European Quarter - Visiting The European Parliament (the Parliamentarium & the Hemicycle & the ‘Europa Building’)

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘world’ and ‘peace’.
- Discuss the general facts related to the ‘European Quarter’.
- Discuss the common issues related to the ‘European Parliament’.
- Describe the general facts related to the ‘Hemicycle’.

3.1 Introduction

The European Union Member States are now one of the world’s leading tourist destinations and the European Union’s own premises (also known as the European Quarter) based in Belgium and France are part of the most popular educational tourist attraction sites in Europe.<sup>71</sup> Tourism is one of the main pillars that help to support innovation rates in a country. The inter-cultural exchanges that occur between the local people and foreign visitors’ generally helps to boost knowledge transfer into a society and overtime this may ultimately lead to high innovation rates in a country. The prosperity of a nation can be strengthened by its tourism sector. Tourism generally helps to boost economic growth and employment creation amongst global societies. When international tourists arrive in a foreign country they bring new ideas, knowledge and culture/values from their country of origin and overtime they share these with the local people leading to the creation of a multi-cultural society and prolonged diplomatic relations.<sup>72</sup> According to the World Bank Group (2017:6) Tourism sector development often results in improvements in basic infrastructure, such as airports, roads, water supply, energy, medical services, mobile phone networks, and health and safety services that are enjoyed by tourists and locals alike (World Bank Group, 2017:6, <https://documents1.worldbank.org/>). The following section will discuss the definition of terms in-depth.

3.2 Definition of terms

<sup>73</sup>“In general many dictionaries including academics, experts and authors have developed numerous definitions of the term ‘world’ over the past number of years. Generally the term ‘world’ refers to planet earth and all the (1) humans or mankind, (2) nature and (3) vegetation currently cohabiting in it under the guidance of national boundaries (borders) and geographical regions. In addition the definition of the term ‘world’ refers to everything that we see and touch from the North, South East or West in all the countries” (Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:15).

<sup>74</sup><sup>75</sup>According to Peace Direct (2021) For some, peace means the absence of violence. To others, peace means freedom from fear. But what does it mean to you? From Sudan to Sri Lanka, our work shows us that peace means different things to us all. Peace is personal. Peace is much more than just the absence of war, but whatever it means, peace is personal (Peace Direct, 2021, <https://www.peacedirect.org/world-peace-day/> cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:15 from his famous book title ‘Our World Heroes Towards Global Security, Development, Cooperation & Humanity: U.S. Department of Defense, Germany, United Kingdom, Switzerland, New Zealand, Denmark, Norway, Australia, Spain & Italy Military Forces’). ### 3.3.3 The ‘Europa Building’ and other EU facilities located in Brussels

The European Union is globally renowned for its modern infrastructure development projects that have helped the global institution to enhance its multi-nation brand power as a modern highly innovation region in Europe. Most of the modern infrastructure development projects by the European Union tend to be in direct alignment with its vision, values, culture and unity thus this has ultimately resulted in the European Union becoming a symbolic multi-nation region. One of the most advanced and amazing infrastructure development project conducted by the European Union is the construction of the ‘Europa Building’ located in Brussels, Belgium. The modern interior and exterior views of the ‘Europa Building’ will be clearly depicted by Figure 3.3 below.

structure designed by the consortium of Samyn and Partners (Belgium), Studio Valle Progettazioni (Italy) and Buro Happold (UK), with a renovated section, block A of the Résidence Palace, a partly listed Art Deco complex designed by architect Michel Polak in 1922. The Europa was built in line with the principles of sustainable development. The building was designed with modern systems to regulate lighting, humidity and temperature. It also includes green features such as solar panels or a rain water collection system to supply the sanitary facilities. The construction of the Europa was decided in 2004 by the European Presidents and Prime ministers against the background first of the enlargement and second of the decision to host all European summits in Brussels rather than in member countries. Since then, the Council also started to host multilateral and bilateral summits and, as part of the institutional evolution of the EU since 2009, the offices of the permanent President of the European Council. The building is already in partial use and will enter into full operation at the beginning of 2017.

The following section will cover information about the conclusion of this chapter in-depth.

3.4 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the European Union Member States are rich in culture and tourist attraction sites. One of the most popular educational tourist attraction site in Europe is the European Union's premises (also known as the European Quarter) based in Belgium and France. It can be concluded that innovation rates in many countries are supported by the tourism sector since inter-cultural exchanges that occur between the local people and foreign visitors' generally helps to boost knowledge transfer into a society. It can also be concluded that tourism plays a critical role towards boosting the economic development of a country. Generally there are various developments that occur in a country that are associated with the tourism sector namely: transport infrastructure development projects, hotels and shopping malls construction, information, technology and telecommunications innovations and so on.

3.5 Review questions

- 1) Define the following terms 'world' and 'peace'?
- 2) Discuss the general facts related to the 'European Quarter'?
- 3) Explain the common issues related to the 'European Parliament'?
- 4) Describe the general facts related to the 'Hemicycle'?

Chapter 4: The overview information about the amazingly beautiful Kingdom of Belgium

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘support’ and ‘principle’.
- Highlight the name of the seventh King of the Kingdom of Belgium.
- Explain the overview information about the Kingdom of Belgium.
- Discuss the general information about the Royal Monarch of the Kingdom of Belgium.

4.1 Introduction

<sup>81</sup>“Belgium. The Kingdom of Belgium is renowned for its rich cultural diversity, pro-human rights protection stance, good governance, diplomacy excellence, modern tech-savvy lifestyle, strong nation brand, high tourist arrivals numbers and so on. Over the past number of years the Kingdom of Belgium has been ranked by many ‘nation branding & better quality of life’ country ranking firms/institutions as one of the many countries in the world that enjoys a consistent year-on-year positive growth trajectory in terms of its nation brand value. The Kingdom of Belgium’s prosperity has been professionally nurtured by The Royal Monarchy of the Kingdom of Belgium under the exemplary leadership of King Philippe (seventh King of Belgium), the Royal Family and the Belgian Government” (Rudolph Muteswa, 2023:61 cited in his famous book title ‘12 Leaders of Various Countries Around the World’). Effective leadership in a country such as the Kingdom of Belgium often yields the following: (1) international cooperation with various global institutions, (2) increased foreign direct investments, (3) a globally recognized university education system, (4) a highly skilled and talented workforce, (5) a culturally friendly society, (6) peacebuilding initiatives and (7) high quality agricultural exports and local food security (Rudolph Muteswa, 2023 cited in his famous book title ‘12 Leaders of Various Countries Around the World’). Belgium is globally known for its rich culture, environment friendly laws, historical architectural buildings, democracy, Royal Monarchy, tourist attraction cities and so on. The following section will cover information about the definition of terms.

4.2 Definition of terms

It is critical for words or terms to be defined in educational books as this helps learners and or readers to have basic or in-depth understanding of the meaning of the terms or words being discussed. <sup>82</sup>“A principle refers to a rule, norm, a habitual belief that shapes behavior in a manner that upholds what an individual, society or organization strongly values” (Rudolph Muteswa, 2021:27). <sup>83</sup>According to Rudolph Muteswa (2021:96) the term ‘support’ for the context of this book refers to the assisting, helping, facilitating and working together of an individual or organization to achieve a uniform goal (Rudolph Muteswa, 2021:96). The following section will cover information about the overview information of the Kingdom of Belgium in-depth.

4.3 Overview information about the Kingdom of Belgium

<sup>84</sup><sup>85</sup>“Belgium is a country in Western Europe that borders the North Sea. Neighboring countries include France, Germany, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands. Flat coastal plains take up most of the northwest, but rugged mountains of the Ardennes Forest lie in the southeast. is the king, and the head of government is the prime minister. Belgium has a mixed economic system which includes a private-enterprise system, combined with centralized economic planning, and government regulation. Belgium is a member of the European Union (EU)” (Michigan State University, 2021, <https://globaledge.msu.edu/countries/belgium> cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:76). Furthermore, <sup>86</sup>according to the Belgian Federal Public Authorities (2021) Belgium became independent in 1830. Between 1970 and 1993, the country evolved into a more efficient federal structure. This occurred through six state reforms (in 1970, 1980, 1988-89, 1993, 2001 and 2012-2014). As a result, the first Article of the Belgian constitution reads today: 'Belgium is a federal state, composed of communities and regions'. The power to make decisions is no longer the exclusive preserve of the federal government and the federal parliament. The leadership of the country is now in the hands of various partners, who independently exercise their authority within their domains. The communities. The redistribution of power occurred along two lines. The first line relates to language and, in a broader sense, to everything related to culture. The result was several communities. The concept of 'community' refers to persons that make up a community and the bond that unifies them, namely their language and culture. Belgium sits across the fault line that separates German and Latin cultures. This explains why the country has three official languages: Dutch, French and German. As a result, Belgium today, has three communities: the Flemish Community, the French Community and the German-speaking Community. These communities therefore correspond with the population groups. The regions. The second line of state reform was historically inspired by economic interests. The regions, which aspired to more economic autonomy, conveyed these interests. The establishment of the three regions was the result: the Flemish Region, the Brussels Capital Region and the Walloon Region. Up to a certain level they can be compared with the American states or the German 'Länder'. The country is further divided into 10 provinces and 581 municipal councils. The Federal State. The Federal State nevertheless retains important powers, for example in the area of foreign affairs, national defence, justice, finance, social security, important parts of national health and domestic affairs... However, the communities and the regions also have the power to establish and maintain foreign relations (Belgian Federal

Its excellent airport, road, rail, harbour and port facilities bring the country closer to several other European countries. This privileged strategic position has helped make the country a force to be reckoned with on the international scene, as much in political terms as in terms of the economy or tourism. With its 70 kilometres of coastline in the north and its hilly south, Belgium has plenty of tourist attractions to offer anyone who also wishes to discover its numerous cities, rich in art and history. The country where life is good. It is commonly said about Belgium that it's a country where you can live well. With a high human development index (17th in the UNDP ranking for 2012/2013), the country enjoys a high quality of life. Furthermore, Belgium has a lot of strong points: a healthcare system that is among the most highly developed in the world, its particularly dense transport network, its numerous green spaces, its open, diversified economy, and so on.<sup>88</sup>A major economic player. Situated along a major economic and urban axis, Belgium also has a North Sea coastline. Enriched by its three national languages – French, Dutch, and German – it is at the top of many European competitiveness and productivity rankings. The Belgian economy is known for its great diversity, a guarantee of a certain stability. Most of Belgium's multicultural workers are therefore deployed in the food, automotive, or aerospace sectors, or in industries specialising in pharmaceutical products, biotechnology, and transport and logistics” (Council of Europe, 2021, <https://www.coe.int/en/web/portal/belgianchairmanship-federalstate> cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:77). #### 4.4 The exemplary & globally celebrated Royal Monarch of the Kingdom of Belgium – (His Royal Majesty King Philippe)

The Kingdom of Belgium’s prosperity has been professionally nurtured by The Royal Monarchy of the Kingdom of Belgium under the exemplary leadership of King Philippe (seventh King of Belgium), the Royal Family and the Belgian Government. The portrait of the Royal Monarch of the Kingdom of Belgium King Philippe will be clearly depicted by Figure 4.1 below.

Military Academy. Interested in aerospace since childhood, he chose to join the Air Force, where he qualified as a fighter pilot. He completed his military training with a certification as a parachutist and a commando. He then continued his studies abroad. After a trimester at Oxford University in the United Kingdom and two years at Stanford University in the United States, he obtained a master's in Political Science. Back in Belgium in 1985, he delved into the political, economic, and social realities of his country. Over a period of eight years, he got to know Belgium and the Belgians through numerous meetings, visits, conferences, and missions. He also gained various experiences in the field during humanitarian visits. During this period, he greatly expanded his knowledge in areas of particular personal interest, such as history, literature, and philosophy. He travelled widely and met all kinds of committed people the world over, both leaders and ordinary citizens. He also closely followed the European integration process. The death of King Baudouin in 1993 marked a turning point in Prince Philippe's life. Following the accession of his father, King Albert II, Philippe became heir apparent to the throne at the age of 33. From then on, his public role took precedence, and he worked primarily in a number of areas closely related to the major challenges of the time, undertaking international missions to promote the Belgian economy and Belgium's image abroad, promoting sustainable development, encouraging dialogue among Belgium's various communities, fostering support for vulnerable people, and helping nurture talent. In 1993, he took over the Honorary Presidency of the Belgian Foreign Trade Agency (BFTA), and over the next 20 years led no fewer than 85 economic missions. He forged links between Belgian and foreign companies, and among Belgian companies themselves. After his accession to the throne in 2013, he remained Honorary President of the BFTA, and asked his sister, Princess Astrid, to represent him on economic missions. <sup>91</sup>Another of the Prince's signature issues is sustainable development. From 1993 to 2013, he was Honorary Chair of the Federal Council for Sustainable Development, which brings together the country's economic, social, scientific, and environmental components, and which advises the federal government. He also agreed to be Honorary Chair of the International Polar Foundation. He also actively supports dialogue among the country's communities. With the establishment of the Prince Philippe Fund in 1998, he helped to promote dialogue among citizens of different language communities and to encourage greater mutual recognition and respect for everyone's individuality and culture. The King is fully aware of the many forms of marginalisation that beset society, and therefore meets with those whom it affects. Here, too, he gets a full sense of the needs of people affected by illness, social exclusion, accidents, and natural disasters. He is also inspired by the many talents that Belgium has to offer, from sportsmen and women, artists, and scientists, to explorers and young talents. The King encourages them all with keen attention. In 1999, he married Mathilde d'Udekem d'Acoz. They have four children: Elisabeth, Gabriel, Emmanuel and Eléonore. They combine family life with ceremonial and official obligations.<sup>92</sup> Their children carry on tradition, getting their schooling in classical education, and are growing up in a multilingual environment. On 3 July 2013, King Albert II announced his abdication. On the National Day, which follows a few weeks later, Prince Philippe took the oath and became the seventh King of the Belgians. His daughter Elisabeth, who turned 20 on 25 October 2021, is now first in line to the throne. As Head of State, the King grants audiences to visitors each day: members of the Federal Government and of the regional and community governments, members of parliament, and other political leaders, as well as representatives of the economic, social, cultural, and scientific worlds, and of universities, the military, and of the media. The King also receives many foreign dignitaries, such as heads of state and ambassadors who come to pay a state visit or present their credentials. Since the start of his reign, the King has welcomed six state visits. Several times a week, sometimes together with Her Majesty the Queen, he visits organisations, companies, and various initiatives in Belgium. During these visits, the King is keen to get a clear picture of the state of the country, the projects that are being implemented, and the concerns and expectations of the people. In the case of national disasters, such as the attacks of 22 March 2016 and the floods of July 2021, the King goes to the scene to pay his sympathies. His Majesty regularly travels abroad to promote Belgium's positive image and to highlight and strengthen relations with the host country. Since ascending to the throne in July 2013, the King and Queen have made ten state visits to countries in Europe and beyond. His Majesty puts his signature on laws and royal decrees every day. He also mediates with ministers on behalf of citizens who appeal to him for justice in their dealings with the political and administrative system. In his more than nine years on the throne, the King has overseen two government negotiations, and has played a role in tackling the coronavirus pandemic in Belgium. Their Majesties spend their holidays with family and friends. In their free time, they like to read and play sports. The King goes jogging regularly, and is especially keen on kite surfing. In May 2013 and 2014, he took part in the 34th and 35th edition of Brussels 20km. The following section will cover information about the conclusion of this chapter in-depth.

4.5 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the Kingdom of Belgium is indeed the hub of human rights policies, democracy and foreign diplomacy excellence and as a result this ultimately makes Belgium enjoy a strong nation brand status. In general the Kingdom of Belgium’s unique rich culture and values/beliefs somehow make Belgium highly attractive to the international community. It can be concluded that the Kingdom of Belgium nation brand value is consistently increasing in its value due to its pro-human rights protection stance, good governance, diplomacy excellence and high tourist arrivals numbers. It can also be concluded that the Kingdom of Belgium’s prosperity has been professionally nurtured by The Royal Monarchy of the Kingdom of Belgium under the exemplary leadership of King Philippe (seventh King of Belgium), the Royal Family and the Belgian Government.

Chapter 5: The overview information about the amazingly beautiful Kingdom of the Netherlands

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘celebrate’ and ‘freedom’.
- Identify the popular tourist attraction sites located in the Kingdom of the Netherlands.
- Explain the overview information about the Kingdom of the Netherlands.
- Discuss the general information about the Royal House of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

5.1 Introduction

Kingdom of the Netherlands. The Kingdom of The Netherlands is known for having the friendliest, values centered, high work ethic, health-conscious, travel explorative, culinary explorative, happiest and open people in the world. In general The Netherlands has strict environment protection laws and today is known as one of the cleanest nations in the world with very limited pollution levels if it is compared to other nations around the world.<sup>94</sup>95“The Dutch people are friendly. One of the best things to experience when you’re in an unfamiliar environment is friendly people. Fortunately, the Dutch people are open, welcoming and don’t hesitate to engage when they pass you on the street. The Netherlands offers good organization and infrastructure. Organization is extremely important when it comes to any type of setting, but it makes a living in a particular country with a balanced and well-thought-out infrastructure so much simpler and enjoyable. There are several regulations in place that allows everyone and everything to be in compliance. For example, there are very strict rules regarding waste. Trash

The Dutch public transportation system is well-structured and offers fast, reliable ways to get from one end of the city to the other. You'll learn to love Dutch weather. The nice thing about the weather in the Netherlands is that the Dutch people usually experience all four seasons. This means ice skating on frozen lakes, enjoying the tulips in the spring, boating along the canals during the long days of summer and enjoying the changing colors of the leaves during the fall” (Federica, 2021, <https://housinganywhere.com/Netherlands/living-in-the-netherlands> cited in Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:46 cited from his famous book title ‘28 Amazingly Beautiful Countries in the World & Our World Heroes Towards Humanity’). The following section will cover information about the definition of terms.

5.2 Definition of terms

“Words become easier to grasp if what they mean is properly defined in a much simpler manner by authors to clearly highlight the logic of whatever they intend to communicate to readers. The term ‘celebrate’ refers to the carrying-out of planned and well designed fun activities to commemorate a positive result or a worthy accomplishment in life. For the purposes of this textbook the term ‘freedom’ means the ability to freely decide and choose your day-to-day passions, ideas, choices and rights without any restrictions”<sup>96,97</sup> (Rudolph Muteswa, 2022:66 cited from his famous book title ‘The Magnificence & Importance of the United States of America, United Kingdom, Germany, France, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Switzerland, Italy, South Africa, Norway, Denmark & Spain International Relations with the Continent of Africa 1st

5.3 Popular tourist attraction sites located in the Kingdom of the Netherlands – ‘Louwman Museum’ (located in The Hague) & ‘Groninger Museum’ (located in Groningen)

<sup>98</sup>Today it has become the main priority of many countries to achieve global goals and rankings in order to boost their nation brand values. One of Europe’s most famous and powerful nation the Kingdom of the Netherlands has for many decades been a popular tourist destination and it has been receiving visitors from different parts of the world. There are many tourist attraction sites in the beautiful great nation of The Netherlands. The three most popular tourist attraction sites in The Netherlands that will be discussed in this section include: ‘Louwman Museum’ (located in The Hague) & ‘Groninger Museum’ (located in Groningen). In the next section the three most popular tourist attraction sites in The Netherlands will be discussed as follows:

5.6 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the Kingdom of the Netherlands is a values centered, high work ethic, health-conscious, travel explorative and very happy society. The Netherlands is a very clean country with strict environment protection laws. It can be concluded that the Kingdom of the Netherlands is regularly ranked as one of the happiest and cleanest (eco-friendly) countries in the world. It can also be concluded that The Netherlands has an ethical leadership that is trustworthy whilst at the same time possessing a strong work ethic. Countries such as The Netherlands have leaders that embrace openness and nation building hence they end up achieving prosperity.

Chapter 6: The overview information about the amazingly beautiful United States of America

After reading this chapter you should be able to:

- Define the following terms ‘leader’ and ‘leadership’.
- List the current & past Presidents/Vice Presidents of the United States of America.
- Identify the six most popular educational tourist attraction sites located in the United States of America.
- Discuss the location of the ‘Millennium Park’.

6.1 Introduction

United States of America. <sup>116</sup>One critical question that still puzzles some of the leadership experts in this 21st century is ‘who is a great leader and what makes them a great leader’? Leadership is generally both inside and outside an individual in two forms: it is in your mindset and your physical actions including the reactions of the people you lead therefore the issue of leadership is still being refined today. The importance of understanding the aspects that help to determine what makes one individual to become a great leader has become a key priority in various countries or organizations that are aiming to gain a competitive edge (powerful nation brand status) via effective leadership. Nowadays the new buzz word that is transforming the global leadership workspace for the better is ‘ethical leadership’ a completely new type of leadership that helps governments and or organizations to operate in an ethical and compliant manner. The ability to influence people to perform well defined goals, objectives or tasks at the right time equals true leadership and intelligence. Leadership is generally not immune to performance evaluations therefore leadership competency is one key factor that helps to differentiate effective leadership from poor leadership (Rudolph Muteswa, 2020:27 cited from his famous book title 'Leadership (Gathered Articles): A North America, Europe, Africa, Oceania & Asia 21st Century Perspective 1st Edition'. The following section will cover information about the definition of terms.

6.2 Definition of terms

<sup>117</sup>In general the terms 'leader' and leadership' are often used when discussing any topic that is related to leadership. A leader is an individual with an inner ability to unite or persuade others to walk towards a certain path through inspiring their morale and gaining their trust. The term 'leadership' refers to the inner power that enables an individual to successfully motivate others in a convincing, thrilling and inspiring manner to accomplish a desired vision, set goal or objective with a victorious mindset (Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2020:12 cited from his famous book title 'Leadership (Gathered Articles): A North America, Europe, Africa, Oceania & Asia 21st Century Perspective 1st Edition'). The following section will cover information of the various leaders of the United States of America.

6.3 List of the current & past Presidents/Vice Presidents of the United States of America (USA)

<sup>118</sup>"It is unquestionable that the prosperity, international stature and global power of the United States of America is centred on its unity (51 United States) despite one's political opinion especially around its national leaders (Presidents, Former Presidents, Vice Presidents, Former Vice Presidents, Military Commanders, Judiciary, Security Agencies, Academia, Media houses and so on) and the greatness of the United States of America will forever remain as long as its society embraces or understands the elements behind their prosperity which is 'unity'. The greatness of a country can only be destroyed by its adversaries through dismantling its people's thinking, culture and through vigorously targeting the main pillars holding its 'unity' in its entire society” (Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2023:28). <sup>119</sup>“What is ‘unity’”. <sup>120</sup>The existence of a common history together amongst different communities in a society is unity. Generally ‘unity’ in a society exists when a country establishes highly functional and credible institutions that accommodate, tolerate and value what people think the good is. In addition ‘unity’ occurs when citizens of a country start to live together in peace and harmony as neighbors while at the same time valuing each other’s differences, opinions, ideas and beliefs in a respectful manner” (Levin, Y. cited in George W. Bush Presidential Center, 2021, www.bushcenter.org cited in Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2022:15). “The existence of mutual relations amongst people, groups and or entities in a society is based on their willingness to work together and co-exist. Good relations can only be achieved if all the parties involved (such as people, groups or entities) are willing to embrace and adopt a unity pact that is based on transparency, truthfulness and good communication”<sup>121</sup> (Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2022:16). <sup>122</sup>“The world’s most famous and powerful nation the United States of America has for many decades been a popular tourist destination and it has been receiving visitors from different parts of the world. <sup>123</sup>The United States of America has successfully managed to go the ‘extra mile’ in distinguishing itself towards the full commitment to uplift the living standards or quality of life of the people living in Africa, South America, Central America, the Caribbean Islands, Asia, Europe and Oceania regions through consistent foreign direct investments (FDI), education programs and so on. Globally the United States of America is celebrated for its pro-democracy, freedom and human rights principles which have become part of its legacy. Remarkably this great nation called the United States of America has also managed to successfully share these pro-democracy, freedom and human rights principles or values to various parts of the world” (Rudolph. Patrick. T. Muteswa, 2022:23 cited in Muteswa, RPT, 2023:28). Remarkably, over the past number of years the people of the United States of America have elected or appointed several exemplary Presidents and Vice Presidents into the U.S. White House both Republicans and Democrats. Some of the recently appointed Presidents and Vice Presidents of the United States of America include the following:

2021, Kamala Harris was sworn in as Vice President – the first woman, the first Black American, and the first South Asian American to be elected to this position. As Vice President, she has worked to bring people together to advance opportunity, deliver for families, and protect fundamental freedoms across the country. She has led the fight for the freedom of women to make decisions about their own bodies, the freedom to live safe from gun violence, the freedom to vote, and the freedom to drink clean water and breathe clean air. While making history at home, she is also representing the nation abroad – embarking on more than a dozen foreign trips, traveling to more than 19 countries, and meeting with more than 150 world leaders to strengthen critical global alliances. The Vice President has been a trusted partner to President Joe Biden as they work together to deliver monumental achievements that are lifechanging for millions of Americans. Together, they have invested in the economy to create a record number of jobs and keep unemployment low. Their work has led to more small business creation in a two-year period than any previous administration.”<sup>131</sup> (Source) - “Kamala Harris THE VICE PRESIDENT Fighting For The People and Delivering For America.” NARA— THE BIDEN-HARRIS ADMINISTRATION. — People Records. <sup>146</sup>“George H. W. Bush THE 41ST PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. The biography for President Bush and past presidents is courtesy of the White House Historical Association. George H. W. Bush, as the 41st President (1989-1993), brought to the White House a dedication to traditional American values and a determination to direct them toward making the United States “a kinder and gentler nation” in the face of a dramatically changing world. George Bush brought to the White House a dedication to traditional American values and a determination to direct them toward making the United States “a kinder and gentler nation.” In his Inaugural Address he pledged in “a moment rich with promise” to use American strength as “a force for good.” Coming from a family with a tradition of public service, George Herbert Walker Bush felt the responsibility to make his contribution both in time of war and in peace. Born in Milton, Massachusetts, on June 12, 1924, he became a student leader at Phillips Academy in Andover. On his 18th birthday he enlisted in the armed forces. The youngest pilot in the Navy when he received his wings, he flew 58 combat missions during World War II. On one mission over the Pacific as a torpedo bomber pilot he was shot down by Japanese antiaircraft fire and was rescued from the water by a U. S. submarine. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for bravery in action. Bush next turned his energies toward completing his education and raising a family. In January 1945 he married Barbara Pierce. They had six children— George, Robin (who died as a child), John (known as Jeb), Neil, Marvin, and Dorothy. At Yale University he excelled both in sports and in his studies; he was captain of the baseball team and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. After graduation Bush embarked on a career in the oil industry of West Texas. Like his father, Prescott Bush, who was elected a Senator from Connecticut in 1952, George became interested in public service and politics. He served two terms as a Representative to Congress from Texas. Twice he ran unsuccessfully for the Senate. Then he was appointed to a series of high-level positions: Ambassador to the United Nations, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, Chief of the U. S. Liaison Office in the People’s Republic of China, and Director of the Central Intelligence Agency””” (Source) - “George H.W. Bush.” NARA—The 41st President of the United States. — People Records. “President Barack Obama. Personal. President Barack Obama. Barack Hussein Obama II was born August 4, 1961, in Honolulu, Hawaii, to parents Barack H. Obama, Sr., and Stanley Ann Dunham. His parents divorced when he was 2 years old and he was raised by his mother,

Ann, and maternal grandparents, Stanley and Madelyn Dunham. <sup>147</sup>His mother later married Lolo Soetoro, and his sister Maya was born in 1970. (He also has several siblings on his father's side.) Obama moved with his family to Indonesia in 1967, where he attended local Indonesian schools and received additional lessons via U.S. correspondence courses under his mother's direction. He returned to Hawaii to live with his grandparents in 1971 and attended Punahou School, from which he graduated in 1979. Obama first attended Occidental College in Los Angeles, before transferring to Columbia University, where he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science in 1983. After graduation, Obama briefly worked as an analyst at Business International Corporation in New York City, before changing his career direction toward community service organizing. He relocated to Chicago, Illinois, in 1985 when he accepted a job with the Developing Communities Project. Eventually rising to the role of Director, Obama worked with low-income communities on Chicago's South Side, often collaborating with local religious organizations and civic groups. After three years of community organizing, Obama enrolled in Harvard Law School. After completing his first year, he worked as a summer associate at Chicago corporate law firm of Sidley & Austin, where his mentor was Michelle Robinson, his future wife. Obama was elected the first African-American president of the Harvard Law Review, prior to graduating magna cum laude in 1991. He returned to Chicago in 1992 and served as the Illinois Executive Director of PROJECT VOTE!. In 1993, he was hired as an associate at the firm of Davis Miner Barnhill & Gallard, where he largely worked on voting rights cases. Barack Obama and Michelle Robinson were married in 1992 at Chicago's Trinity United Church of Christ. <sup>148</sup>They have two daughters, Malia and Natasha "Sasha." In the summer of 1995, Obama's first book was published. Dreams From My Father: A Story of Race and Inheritance detailed his personal history and search for identity" (Barack Obama Presidential Library, 2024, <https://www.obamalibrary.gov/obamas/president-barack-obama>). <sup>149</sup>“Political Career. In 1996, Obama was elected to the Illinois State Senate from the thirteenth district. As a State Senator, he served as Democratic Spokesperson for Public Health and Welfare Committee and Co-Chairman of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, in addition to being a member of the Judiciary and Revenue Committees. He also worked as a Senior Lecturer at the University of Chicago from 1996 until 2004, teaching three courses per year. Obama was elected to a second term in the Illinois State Senate in November 1998. In 2000, Obama made his first run for the U.S. Congress when he sought the Democratic U.S. House seat in Illinois First District. <sup>150</sup>He lost to incumbent Representative Bobby Rush by a margin of more than 2-to-1. In July 2004, Obama delivered the keynote address at the 2004 Democratic National Convention, held in Boston, Massachusetts. He was elected as the junior Senator from Illinois in November 2004. While serving as U.S. Senator from Illinois, Obama completed his second book, The Audacity of Hope: Thoughts on Reclaiming the American Dream, published in October 2006. On February 10, 2007, Obama formally announced his candidacy for President of the United States. He accepted the Democratic Party’s nomination at Invesco Stadium in Denver, Colorado on August 28, 2008. On November 4, 2008, Obama became the first African-American to be elected President. He resigned his seat in the U.S. Senate on November 16, 2008. <sup>151</sup>“Presidential Administration. Domestic policy decisions dominated the first 100 Days of the Obama administration. The Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act, which encourages fair pay for all workers and established new methods of protesting unfair paychecks, was the first signed legislation of the administration. To combat the effects of the Great Recession, President Obama signed the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (known as the Recovery Act) in February 2009, which outlined a policy to create additional jobs, extend unemployment benefits, and established the President’s Economic Recovery Advisory Board. In March 2010, after announcing his intent for healthcare reform in a 2009 address to Congress, President Obama signed the Affordable Care Act (also known as “Obamacare”), establishing the most sweeping reforms of the American healthcare system in recent history. To improve access to healthcare coverage, the Act included a Patient’s Bill of Rights to end discrimination by insurance companies based on pre-existing conditions. Among its other reforms, the Act strengthened Medicare and required the insurer to cover preventative screenings for cancer, diabetes, and blood pressure disorders. President Obama announced plans to normalize foreign relations with Cuba in conjunction with President Castro, including reopening the U.S. Embassy in Havana in July 2015. The First Family visited Cuba in March 2016, making President Obama the first sitting President to visit the nation in 90 years. Post-Presidency. President and Mrs. Obama returned to their lives as private citizens on January 20, 2017. Works Published by Barack Obama

<sup>152</sup>“About the Library. The Barack Obama Presidential Library is the 14th Presidential library administered by the National Archives and Records Administration \(NARA\), a federal agency. Unlike other Presidential Libraries administered by NARA, the Obama Presidential Library is the first fully digital Presidential library. An estimated 95 percent of the Presidential records of the Obama administration were born digital, such as photos, videos, word-processing documents, tweets, emails, and other standard digital formats. NARA also received approximately 30 million pages of unclassified paper Presidential records. The Obama Presidential records became subject to Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests on January 20, 2022. Records requested under FOIA are digitized, with the digitized records being processed for access review and requested records in any other formats (born-digital, audiovisual, etc.). Following digitization, NARA stores and preserves the original records and the Obama administration artifacts in a NARA facility that meets NARA's standards for archival storage. The dedicated staff at these locations will care for the records and artifacts. Obama's Presidential records are administered in accordance with the requirements of the Presidential Records Act \(PRA\). NARA is committed to meeting all our obligations under the PRA and FOIA. The digitization and Presidential records review processes are separate and distinct. <sup>153</sup>“““George W. Bush. Early Life and Career. George Walker Bush was born July 6, 1946, in New Haven, Connecticut, the first son of future President George Herbert Walker Bush and his wife Barbara (Pierce) Bush. He has five siblings; John (Jeb), Marvin, Neil, and Dorothy (Doro). In 1953, at the age of four, his first sister, Pauline (Robin), died after fighting leukemia. After attending primary schools in Texas, George W. Bush enrolled at Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts, from 1961 to 1964. Upon graduation, he studied at Yale University, completing a bachelor's degree in History in 1968. After college, Bush enlisted in the Air National Guard, serving in Texas and Alabama until his discharge in November 1974. He completed a master's degree in Business Administration from Harvard University in 1975. In 1977, George W. Bush met and married Laura Lane Welch, a former teacher and librarian, in Midland, Texas. The couple had twin daughters, Jenna and Barbara, in 1981. Before beginning a career in politics, Bush worked in the Texas oil industry, founding Arbusto Energy in 1977.<sup>154</sup> In 1986, he underwent a recommitment to his Christian faith, which had a profound impact on his life. He moved his family to Washington D.C. in 1988, while serving as a campaign advisor and media liaison with his father's Presidential campaign. In 1989, he assembled a group of investors that purchased the Texas Rangers baseball team and served as their managing general partner for the next five years. Political. In 1978, following his family's distinguished tradition of public service, George W. Bush made his first run for political office to be U.S. Representative of the 19th District in Texas. He lost that race to Kent Hance. In 1994, Bush once again ran for public office and was elected the 46th Governor of Texas. Governor Bush won re-election in 1998 with nearly 69 percent of the vote, becoming the first Governor in Texas history to be elected to two consecutive four-year terms. In June 1999, George W. Bush announced his candidacy for the Presidency of the United States. His opponent in the 2000 election was Vice President Albert Gore. Though the Presidential election was held November 7, 2000, the final outcome was not known until December 12, 2000, when the Supreme Court decision Bush v. Gore certified Florida's electoral votes. George W. Bush was inaugurated as the 43rd President of the United States on January 20, 2001. Early decisions in the George W. Bush Administration focused on public education. President Bush's first major initiative, the No Child Left Behind Act of 2002, created reforms that raised standards and improved test scores in the public education system. President Bush increased the size of Pell Grants available to college students to an all-time high and also created the Helping America's Youth Initiative. This was led by Mrs. Laura W. Bush to help adults connect with at-risk children. Economically, President Bush created a tax relief package, which reduced individual income tax rates and doubled the child tax credit, in addition to other reforms. The Bush Presidency changed dramatically with the events of September 11, 2001. In the deadliest attack ever on American soil, terrorists hijacked four airplanes, crashing two into the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York City and one into the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia. The fourth plane crashed in Shanksville, Pennsylvania after its passengers attempted to overtake the hijackers. In response to the September 11th terrorist attacks, President Bush declared a War on Terror, which became a wide-ranging assault on terrorists and those entities that support terrorism around the globe. As part of this effort, the War in Afghanistan began in October 2001 and the War in Iraq in March 2003. President Bush initiated a reorganization of the federal government; established the National Counterterrorism Center, the Department of Homeland Security, and the Homeland Security Council; and created the position of Director of National Intelligence. The USA Freedom Corps, also created following September 11th, aimed to inspire American citizens to serve humanitarian causes greater than themselves. In the 2004 election, President George W. Bush faced Senator John Kerry of Massachusetts. President Bush was re-elected for a second term, and inaugurated January 20, 2005.<sup>155</sup> Iraq also held its elections – the first free elections in the country – in January 2005. During his second administration, President George W. Bush continued the development of humanitarian aid programs including the President’s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR) and the President’s Malaria Initiative, to assist those suffering around the world. President Bush also led efforts to provide more than $3.3 billion to the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria. The President and Mrs. Bush worked together to establish the Preserve America Initiative and the National Parks Centennial Initiative, and the President asked Congress to provide more than $6.5 billion to repair and improve the National Park System. He also designated nearly 195,000 square miles of the central Pacific Ocean as national monuments and preserved an additional one million square miles of fish habitats. Post-Presidential. On January 20, 2009, George W. Bush returned to Texas as a private citizen. In January 2010, he united with former President Bill Clinton to lead a major fundraising relief effort for the victims of the devastating Haitian earthquake. President Bush’s memoir, Decision Points, was published in November 2010. On April 25, 2013, President and Mrs. Bush dedicated the Bush

The paintings that were published in Portraits of Courage were also displayed at the George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum, as part of an exhibit of the same name. President Bush also provided the paintings for another temporary exhibit, called "The Art of Leadership: A President's Personal Diplomacy." The portraits of thirty world leaders were accompanied by reflections about President Bush's relationships with his foreign counterparts, and the importance of personal diplomacy between leaders in shaping international policy. Today, President Bush remains actively involved in issues of national and global concern through the George W. Southwestern College and the Georgia Institute of Technology, and received a B.S. degree from the United States Naval Academy in 1946. In the Navy he became a submariner, serving in both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets and rising to the rank of lieutenant. Chosen by Admiral Hyman Rickover for the nuclear submarine program, he was assigned to Schenectady, New York, where he took graduate work at Union College in reactor technology and nuclear physics and served as senior officer of the pre-commissioning crew of the Seawolf, the second nuclear submarine. On July 7, 1946, he married Rosalynn Smith of Plains. When his father died in 1953, he resigned his naval commission and returned with his family to Georgia. He took over the Carter farms, and he and Rosalynn operated Carter's Warehouse, a general-purpose seed and farm supply company in Plains. He quickly became a leader of the community, serving on county boards supervising education, the hospital authority, and the library. In 1962 he won election to the Georgia Senate. He lost his first gubernatorial campaign in 1966, but won the next election, becoming Georgia's 76th governor on January 12, 1971.<sup>159</sup> He was the Democratic National Committee campaign chairman for the 1974 congressional and gubernatorial elections”””” (Revised July 25, 2018 by Steven H. <sup>165</sup>“President Donald J. Trump. Donald J. Trump was born on June 14, 1946 in Queens, New York to parents Fred and Mary Trump. He has three older siblings and one younger brother. Trump attended the New York Military Academy and the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania. Following his father’s footsteps, Trump began a notable career as a real estate developer and businessman. He has written more than fourteen books. His first book, The Art of the Deal, was published in 1987. From 2004 to 2015, Trump hosted and produced the popular television show, The Apprentice. Trump announced his candidacy on June 16, 2015. He accepted the Republican nomination in July of 2016. On November 8, 2016, Trump was elected President. He was inaugurated as the 45th President of the United States on January 20, 2017. The work of the Trump Administration included reforming the U.S. tax code; renegotiating trade agreements with Mexico, Canada, China, Japan, and South Korea; expanding the military; defeating the self-proclaimed Islamic State (ISIS); responding to the opioid crisis; improving access to healthcare for veterans; responding to the COVID-19 global pandemic; appointing Federal judges, including the nomination of three U.S. Supreme Court justices; and lowering the cost of prescription drugs. President Trump has been married to his wife, Melania, since 2005. Together they have one son, Barron. Trump also has four adult children, Donald Jr., Ivanka, Eric, and Tiffany. He has 10 grandchildren” (Donald J. Trump Presidential Library, 2024, <https://www.trumplibrary.gov/trumps/president-donald-j-trump>). <sup>169</sup>“WILLIAM J. CLINTON THE 42ND PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. Bill Clinton is an American politician from Arkansas who served as the 42nd President of the United States (1993-2001). He took office at the end of the Cold War, and was the first baby-boomer generation President. During the administration of William Jefferson Clinton, the U.S. enjoyed more peace and economic well being than at any time in its history. He was the first Democratic president since Franklin D. Roosevelt to win a second term. He could point to the lowest unemployment rate in modern times, the lowest inflation in 30 years, the highest home ownership in the country’s history, dropping crime rates in many places, and reduced welfare rolls. He proposed the first balanced budget in decades and achieved a budget surplus. As part of a plan to celebrate the millennium in 2000, Clinton called for a great national initiative to end racial discrimination. After the failure in his second year of a huge program of health care reform, Clinton shifted emphasis, declaring “the era of big government is over.” He sought legislation to upgrade education, to protect jobs of parents who must care for sick children, to restrict handgun sales, and to strengthen environmental rules. President Clinton was born William Jefferson Blythe III on August 19, 1946, in Hope, Arkansas, three months after his father died in a traffic accident. When he was four years old, his mother wed Roger Clinton, of Hot Springs, Arkansas. In high school, he took the family name. He excelled as a student and as a saxophone player and once considered becoming a professional musician. As a delegate to Boys Nation while in high school, he met President John Kennedy in the White House Rose Garden. The encounter led him to enter a life of public service. Clinton graduated from Georgetown University and in 1968 won a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University. He received a law degree from Yale University in 1973, and entered politics in Arkansas. He was defeated in his campaign for Congress in Arkansas’s Third District in 1974. <sup>170</sup>The next year he married Hillary Rodham, a graduate of Wellesley College and Yale Law School. In 1980, Chelsea, their only child, was born. Clinton was elected Arkansas Attorney General in 1976, and won the governorship in 1978. After losing a bid for a second term, he regained the office four years later, and served until he defeated incumbent George Bush and third party candidate Ross Perot in the 1992 presidential race. Clinton and his running mate, Tennessee's Senator Albert Gore Jr., then 44, represented a new generation in American political leadership. For the first time in 12 years both the White House and Congress were held by the same party. But that political edge was brief; the Republicans won both houses of Congress in 1994. He became a global proponent for an expanded NATO, more open international trade, and a worldwide campaign against drug trafficking. He drew huge crowds when he traveled through South America, Europe, Russia, Africa, and China, advocating U.S. style freedom”” (Source) - “*William J. Clinton. Each new addition presented its own story of vision, risk, design, finance, construction and operation. As a result, the Park is an aggregate of the initial framework and individual additions that were not anticipated in the original plan. Yet at each stage, the framework for planning was flexible and neutral enough to enable a variety of alternatives to evolve successfully. The following section will cover the conclusion of this chapter.

6.5 Conclusion

It can be concluded that the critical leadership question that ‘who is a great leader and what makes them a great leader’ is still relevant in our present day global leadership environment. Nowadays it has become important for countries to prioritize ‘ethical leadership’ principles as this helps many governments and organizations to operate in an ethical and compliant manner. The ability to influence people to perform well defined goals, objectives or tasks at the right time equals true leadership and intelligence. It can also be concluded that leaders who are able to communicate, share, identify and nurture talent often end up becoming good-to-great leaders. It can also be concluded that trust is a critical ingredient towards successful front line leadership since people follow leaders they feel they can trust and identify with at the workplace or in a country.

6.6 Review Questions

- 1) Define the following terms ‘leader’ and ‘leadership’?
- 2) List the various current & past Presidents/Vice Presidents of the United States of America?
- 3) Identify the six most popular educational tourist attraction sites located in the United States of America?
- 4) Discuss the location of the Millennium Park?
